Strategic Framework for Research with Impact:

Mechanisms: our approach to promoting these objectives and monitoring progress will take account of emerging faculty developments, and include a range of forms, including as an element of:

- individual research planning (IRPs) and research information systems;
- annual reporting formats for Research Centres;
- criteria evaluating applications for study leave and internal research funding;
- rigorous and constructive internal review processes for research bids;
- priorities for staff development and mentoring, supported by the formal ADR process;
- regular research away days, training support and capacity building opportunities
